Course schedule (how it was organised):

The course was very well organised. The teaching professors provided a lot of materials, slides and prepared script codes, however, the course was challenging for students who are not so skilled in high statistics and math.

Spare time:

Exploring Paris, hanging out with other students from the course.

Overall Evaluation:

ATHENS week was a great opportunity to meet new people and get to know the teaching style of a foreign university. I enjoyed the whole week.
